Because of the problems that pets may present to both people and property, any pets brought to campus must be attended and on a leash or crated at all times and are not allowed in classrooms, eating areas, lounges, study areas or in any other indoor areas (with the exception of an owner’s private office), unless they are documented service or therapy animals.

Any pet not leashed or crated must be removed immediately by the owner, or it will be subject to impoundment. Any pet left unattended is subject to impoundment. Owners are responsible for cleaning up after their animals and for any damage to persons, property, or facilities of Pace Law School.
